

PASTOR COURTNEY D. MEADOWS

Pastor Courtney D. Meadows is an emerging twenty-first-century leader, gifted gospel preacher, empowerment speaker, and "flame igniter." Although anointed by God while in his mother's womb, Pastor Meadows affirmed his call to ministry at age six and has since devoted his life to empowering humanity. He is widely known as an "Old Soul" for his powerful presentation of wisdom and hope, appealing to the young and old. The grace of God upon Pastor Meadows's life has allowed him to travel throughout the United States and Africa.

With over a decade of pastoral experience, he previously served as Senior Pastor of the First Missionary Baptist Church of Whitehall, Alabama, and the historic Hutchinson Missionary Baptist Church of Montgomery, Alabama. Pastor Meadows uses those experiences to foster intentional intergenerational ministry at the Grace Baptist Church of Atlanta, Georgia, as the Generational Pastor and preaching/teaching partner to Senior Pastor Rev. Clinton McFarland. He is the Founder and Chief Igniting Officer of Igniting the Flame Ministries, a ministry established to encourage, equip, and empower believers to creatively reach the least, last, and lost with their talents, testimonies, and technology.

Pastor Meadows believes in ministry "beyond the four walls" and has championed civic engagement, community development, and youth empowerment. He has served in critical leadership roles with the Southern Youth Leadership Development Institute and Hope Inspired Ministries of Montgomery, Alabama. Additionally, Pastor Meadows served as Chaplain and Faith Coach to the Alabama State University Football team and coaching staff. He is a member of the Board of Directors for Leadership Montgomery and is a graduate of its Torchbearers Class XI. A servant of all mankind, he is a proud member of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Incorporated. He has received honors and awards of distinction for his work in Leadership Development, Nonprofit Administration, Community Outreach, and Progressive Ministry.

Pastor Meadows is a native of Montgomery, Alabama. He is a graduate of Saint James School and Talladega College. Most of all, he is the proud husband of Roneshia Rudolph-Meadows and dog-dad to "bishop.
